World Events Vie With Society

By MILDRED MARSHALL KOONCE.

RELIEVED by occasional notes of gaiety, the first week of August dragged to a close last night. The earliest days of the mid-summer month were passed in an effort to remain cool and poised in the face of the torridity which accompanied the "Bermuda high." While one-half of officialdom was busy with Mr. Hughes' acceptance speech, and the other half was keeping a watchful eye on the siege of Verdun, the departure of the Deutschland, and the ever-swinging tide of Mexican politics, there was small time for frivolities. Indeed, with such epoch-making events in progress, dinner and luncheon were relegated to the class of necessities and were mainly left unadorned by the trappings attendant upon a social function.

Apropos of events whose significance is more than momentary and may be viewed in the perspective by children of the third and fourth generations, Washington witnessed an impressive little ceremony last Wednesday when the statuette of the pediment of the House wing of the Capitol was unveiled in its completed beauty. Many official folk were present at the ceremony, as well as large numbers from artistic circles in which Mr. Paul Bartlett, the sculptor, has such enviable distinction. The Speaker and Mrs. Champ Clark gave a luncheon party at the Capitol following the unveiling, when Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett were among the guests. Another informal hospitality which relieved the social graysness of the first August week and was contributed by members of the official world, was the theater and supper party given by the Solicitor of the State Department and Mrs. Cone Johnson on Monday evening. Senator and Mrs. Key Pittman, Mrs. Ollie James, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Caminetti were other hosts of the week.

Indeed, the early days of the week are the only ones adaptable to entertaining, since by Wednesday society is busy with plans for the week-end, and Friday witnesses a general

Grynga Raybaud, daughter of the Military Attache of the Argentine Embassy and Mme. Raybaud, are among the Washington guests on board a yacht for the annual cruise of the New York Yacht Club.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont invariably has several members of Capital society with her aboard the boat which she recently chartered. It seems that much of the visiting among summer residents at the resorts is accomplished by water; summer sojourners at Newport drop over to Narragansett for luncheon or polo and run up to Beverly or Bar Harbor with greatest ease. The season is in full swing now at Newport with a round of hospitalities scheduled for each midsummer day. Unfortunately the Russian Ambassador and Mme. Bakhmeteff, who occupy so distinguished a position in the smart world of Newport, were thrust into mourning on the eve of a brilliant summer by the death at the front of the Ambassador's nephew, Col. Hitrovo, of the Russian army, and were forced to recall invitations for several functions which they were to have given in the immediate future.

A Newport event of great interest to Washington will be the debut of Miss Ethel Harriman, daughter of Mrs. J. Borden Harriman. Miss Harriman, who is very beautiful and charming, will be presented to society at a dance which her aunt, Mrs. Herbert Harriman, will give at the Clambake Club on Saturday evening.

Cabinet Families.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing will return to Washington on Wednesday from Henderson Harbor, where they have spent several weeks at the summer home of Gen. and Mrs. John W. Foster.

The Secretary of the Treasury has joined Mrs. McAdoo at Spring Lake, N. J., for the week-end.

The Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker will return today from Newport News, where they went Friday aboard an army mine planter, accompanied by Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Erasmus Weaver.

Mr. Frank Daniels, the youngest son of the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels, has returned to Washington after a three weeks' visit to Deer Park, where he was the guest of Mr. Nathan B. Scott, son of Capt. Guy Scott.

The Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Redfield are en route to their summer home on MacMahon Island, Me. They are making a leisurely trip by motor.

The Secretary of Agriculture, who has been spending the past month with Mrs. Houston and their children at their cottage at Woods Hole, Mass., will return to Washington in a day or two.

Diplomatic News.

The Minister of Switzerland, Dr. Paul Ritter will leave Washington tomorrow to join Mme. Ritter at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Dr. Charles Paul Hubscher, secretary of the legation, will return tomorrow from the North Shore, where he has been visiting the family of his fiancée, Miss Elizabeth Schoepf, of Cincinnati.

The Minister of Colombia, Senor Don Julio Betancourt, has returned to Washington to assume his duties, after an absence in his own country dating from January 4.

Senor Ancizar, first secretary of the legation, and Senorita Ancizar have left Washington for a vacation.

The Minister of Cuba and Mme. Cespedes, who returned to the legation a few weeks ago from a prolonged visit to the Minister's home in Cuba, will close the legation this week and go to Newport for the rest of the season.

Prince von Hatzfeldt-Trachenberg, counselor of the German Embassy, has left Washington for the summer embassy at Rye, N. Y.

Col. Don Nicholas Urcullu y Cereijo, military attache of the Spanish Embassy, has arrived at Newport. He is the guest of the Spanish Ambassador and Mme. Riano.

Official Notes.

Mr. Carl Vrooman, the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, left Washington Wednesday for Illinois, where he will make a number of addresses. From there he will go to Detroit for an address August 8. He will return about August 10.

The Assistant Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Sweet, has returned to Washington from an official trip to the Pacific Coast, where he has been since the latter part of June.

The Counselor of the State Department and Mrs. Polk have returned to Washington from Southampton, L. I., where Mrs. Polk has a cottage for the summer.

The Solicitor of the State Department and Mrs. Cone Johnson will leave Washington shortly for a stay of several weeks at Deer Park, Md.

Senator Phelan, of California, entertained a house party last week, when his guests included Col. and Mrs. Irby and Mrs. Downey Harvey, all of California, and Mr. and Mrs. Pier, of New York.

Mrs. Ollie James, wife of Senator James, will leave Washington about August 20 and will accompany Mr. Post Wheeler, secretary to the American legation in Tokyo, and Mrs. Wheeler upon their return to Japan. They will sail from San Francisco on August 26. Mrs. James expects to be away several months and will visit China before returning to this country.

Mrs. Daniel C. Roper, wife of the former First Assistant Postmaster General, will remain at their suburban home near Washington during Mr. Roper's absence in connection with the forthcoming Presidential campaign.

Representative and Mrs. Warren Gard have left Washington for their home to Hamilton, Ohio. Mr. Gard will return to Washington for the rest of the session, but Mrs. Gard will remain in Ohio for the summer.

Mrs. Robert L. Owen, wife of Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, left Washington yesterday for Easthampton, L. I., where Miss Dorothea Owen will join her after completing her round of visits on Long Island. Senator Owen is in St. Louis for several weeks.

Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, who are remaining in their M street home until the close of Congress, expect to go to Newport after adjournment.

Mrs. David H. Kincheloe has returned to Washington and joined Representative Kincheloe after a six weeks' visit to her home in Madisonville, Ky.

Mrs. A. H. Peden, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. William Alan Oldfield, and Mrs. Oldfield's sister, Miss Virginia Peden, who is her guest for the summer, will go to Atlantic City Wednesday for a few days. Later they will make a short visit to Trenton, N. J. Mrs. Oldfield will remain in town until after the adjournment of Congress.

Ambassador to Sail.

The recently appointed United States Ambassador to Turkey and Mrs. Abram L. Elkus, who were in Washington for some days, have left for New York, from where they will sail August 17 on the Oscar II for the Ambassador's post of duty.

The Ambassador and Mrs. Elkus entertained informally at dinner Wednesday evening at the Willard.

Wedding Announcements.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac William Hill announce the engagement of their daughter, Geraldine, to Emory Bush Peebles, of Vienna, Ala. The wedding will take place in the early autumn.

The marriage is announced of Mr. Edward S. Moores and Miss Lucy N. Morrison. The wedding took place Wednesday evening, July 12, the Rev. E. K. Hardin, of Mount Vernon M. E. Church, South, officiating. Only the immediate relatives were present. Mr. Moores and his bride left afterward for a trip North. After August 15 they will be at home at 467 M street northwest.

Mrs. Key to Wed.

An engagement of international interest is that just announced of Mrs. Florence Horwitz Key, of Paris, formerly of Baltimore, and Count Rene di San Galli, of Italy. The marriage will take place the latter part of this month or early in September. Mrs. Key was formerly Miss Florence Horwitz, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Orville Horwitz, of Baltimore, and has been living in Europe for a number of years. She is one of several sisters, all of whom are prominent in society. They are Mrs. William C. Bullitt, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Ronald Brooke, of England, and Countess Androski Bernini, of Italy. Mrs. Key's husband, Mr. Edward Key, who died about a year ago, was a brother of Mrs. George C. Jenkins, of Baltimore, and of Mrs. Henry Daingerfield, of Washington. Count di San Galli is a celebrated miniature painter and in addition is an excellent musician and a fluent linguist. He has been living in Paris for the last fifteen years, and it is expected that he and his bride will make their home there after the wedding.

London Wedding.

A wedding of interest to Washington took place in London Thursday morning, when Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain, widow of the British statesman, and the Rev. William Hartley Carnegie, rector of St. Margaret's and canon of Westminster, were married at Westminster Abbey at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was very simple and quiet.

Mrs. Chamberlain before her first marriage was Miss Mary Endicott, of Massachusetts, daughter of the late William C. Endicott, Secretary of War in President Cleveland's Cabinet. She married Joseph Chamberlain when he was colonial secretary under the late Marquis of Salisbury.

How to Judge a Woman by Her Hair

There are always the well-known and semi-humorous methods, such as saying brunettes are quick-tempered or blondes are keener in their mental activity. But there is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge a woman's neatness, or in looking at her style of arranging her hair, to decide whether or not she has good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good preparation made expressly for shampooing. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthox from your druggist and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water when your shampoo is all ready. After it is used the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—A.A.V.
